

How would you spend your time if electronics did not exist?

If electronics didn't exist, I would play with my sister and brother. I would play Chutes and Ladders. Chutes and Ladders is a really fun game. I would also play football with my brother and sister. We would play with my little brother's toys. We would play card games, and my sister and I would help our little brother. It would be a good time!

Zachary Morelock, 2nd, Rock Springs Elementary, Mrs. Charlton

If there were no electronics, I would spend my time playing music. I would like to learn to play the guitar like my daddy. Playing the guitar is what I would like to do if there were no electronics.

Abigail Baker, 1st, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Light

If electronics did not exist I would probably spend more time outside. I know I should spend less time on my phone, but it is hard not to. I love going outside already, but I would be outside a lot more if I did not want to watch the new episodes of my favorite TV show. In conclusion, I think I would spend more time outside if electronics did not exist but I do not think we will have to worry about that.

Marissa Livesay, 6th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Jones

I would go outside and throw baseball with whomever I could find. It's a calming way to relax and stay focused especially the sweet popping sound of the leathered glove. The spin on the ball looks like a tornado, - without the destruction - causing you to want to touch it and throw it again to watch the spin and hear the pop.

Joseph Voight, 8th, Surgoinsville Middle, Mrs. Hensley

If electronics didn't exist, I would make a fake one. I would make a tablet out of cardboard and pretend it worked. I would make fake buttons and put them on the tablet. I would also make a blue case and put it on. I would have fun with it.

Kayllen Lane, 2nd, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Edwards

If I did not have electronics, I could not watch TV. I could not play Fortnite. I would not be able to watch YouTube. I would have to go outside. I might not be able to ride in cars or airplanes. I may not be able to play football or go to football games. The world would be crazy. That's what it would be like if I did not have electronics.

Fletcher Henritze, 4th, Miller Perry, Ms. Jeffers

If electronics did not exist, I would play with my mom and dad. I like spending time with my family.

Nehemiah West, 2nd, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Gilmer

If electronics did not exist I would go outside all the time. I have a cell phone but I'm not really allowed to get it out because my dad hates cell phones. One day when we got on the bus then he dropped us off, my brother and I had to walk in the rain to get to my mom's office.

If I have a phone I can tell my mom when my cousin got dropped off then she will know when to come down and get us with an umbrella. My family and I live in the woods and every day when we get home I go straight outside and play or ride my go-kart. I like my cell phone but I'm not on it 24/7.

Charisa Moore, 5th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Austin

If I had no electronics I would arm wrestle with my brother. It can make you strong! It is super fun! It makes you feel better! That is why I would wrestle with my brother.

Will Bernard, 2nd, Rock Springs Elementary, Dr. Adler

If there were no electronics, I'd probably spend much more time outside. Without electronics many people would be way more active. One downfall to having no electronics would be the fact that it's much harder and unnecessary to contact people. Living with no electronics wouldn't be a bad change, but not a good one either.

Levi Price, 7th, Holston Valley Middle, Mrs. Taylor

If electronics did not exist, I would spend my time fishing, hunting, playing in the mud, and riding my dirt bike.

Riley Bingham, 5th, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Finch

If I didn't have electronics, I would be mad. I would be sad, too. It would be boring. I couldn't play my favorite game, Roblox. There wouldn't be an ice cream machine. That would be bad—very, very bad.

Reese Stallard, 2nd, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Edwards

What I would do without electronics is invent electronics. But that would be too hard so what I really would do is maybe go ride my dirt bike. The second thing I would do is go on a hike. The third thing I would do is go have a sleepover with my friends. That is what I would do without electronics.

Pazlee Roark, 4th, Miller Perry, Ms. Jeffers

If electronics did not exist, I would draw more. Drawing is relaxing and fun to me. You can think of something and just do it on paper. If you draw all your life, maybe one day you'll become an artist. Using the colors of the world is what makes our lives more colorful.

Sierra Woodard, 7th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Brooks

I know I would be better at basketball because I would be able to practice without any distractions like texts or videogames. I would get tons more practice and I could do my homework faster because technology usually distracts me. Then, I could hang out with my friends in person. So, I could be like a regular human.

Zoey Weaver, 7th, Holston Valley Middle, Mrs. Taylor

I'm an old soul. It's just the way I am. While I love to binge-watch my favorite TV series or browse the internet unearthing new and interesting facts, I also take great joy from snuggling in a corner with a good book. If the world lacked electronics, I would like to think that I'd get along just fine. It's hard to be sure. I've never lived in a world without computers possessing wisdom exceeding my own, but I believe that I'd be perfectly content to sit around a fire with a book or a ball of yarn. Just a girl and her knitting taking on the world.

Eliza Smith, 8th, Surgoinsville Middle, Mrs. Hensley

If there were no electronics I would spend my time swimming. I would like to go the lake and swim. That is what I would do if there were no electronics.

Mason Cole, 1st, Hilton Elementary, Mrs. Light

If electronics did not exist, I would fall apart because I wouldn't be able to play Black Ops 3, text people, watch TV, or listen to music. I would go outside and play football a lot. I would also sleep instead of staying up all night.

Jakob Crowder, 7th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Brooks

If electronics did not exist, I would go and enjoy nature. It is nice to get off your phone.

Meadow McConnell, 2nd, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Gilmer

I would read books. I would probably go outside. Be more focused on schoolwork. I would keep up with my chores. Tidy my room daily, take out the trash, I would do the laundry. Electronics changed everyone's lives—in good and bad ways. Electronics are distracting us from what's actually going on in the world. So, sometimes we should turn off our phones and do things that actually matter.

Sofia Rosberg, 7th, Holston Valley Middle, Mrs. Taylor

If electronics didn't exist, most people who have a bunch of humor would probably not have as much. I'm not sure what I'd do, I'd probably spend more time with my family, friends, and other stuff. I would maybe get some board games for my dad, sisters, and I to play. I'd also get some snacks and just sit on the couch looking at a piece of paper with drawings while eating the snacks. Over the time electronics don't exist, I'd probably try and become more of an artist and get little pieces of paper on a notepad. What would I do with the notepad of drawings? I would make different scenes like my own little movie and flip through it. This would be a little movie of mine, just making different scenes in a notepad, different characters, and more.

Ashlee Clasby, 5th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Austin

If I had no electronics I would just play with my dog Astro. I love my dogs so actually I would play with both of my dogs. I love to play fetch with them but they don't give me back the ball. That's what I would do if I had no electronics.

Makenzie Seay, 2nd, Rock Springs Elementary, Dr. Adler

If electronics didn't exist, honestly, I'd probably spend my day being really bored. I'd probably read all my manga books. A lot of people's worlds go around electronics like computers, phones, etc. A lot of people would probably say that "I wouldn't last" but in the past, there were no electronics. I was writing this and I actually thought about how my great-grandmother didn't have smart boards. They had chalk boards for school. They didn't have phones or computers so they played outside for fun. There were no Chromebooks, no phones, no cameras, and they survived.

Isabelle Rose, 5th, Nickelsville Elementary, Mrs. Finch

If electronics did not exist I would hunt, play in the creek, play basketball, and do other things. It might be fun to have no electronics for a week or two but that is all I could handle.

Aiden Troutman, 6th, Jonesville Middle, Mrs. Jones
